

JAN 9 1961

* * *

Kennedy recalled Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to active duty as the President's adviser on military and intelligence matters. Kennedy told Taylor, former Army Chief of Staff, to report to work Saturday. Taylor, 59, recently completed a study of U.S. capabilities in intelligence and in such non-conventional methods of war as guerrilla combat. The White House said Taylor will not be interposed between Kennedy and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, National Security Council or Central Intelligence Agency.

* * *